Marion Wine and Arts Festival Debuts

Tickets for The Marion Wine and Arts Festival are now available through the Zeiterion Theatre in downtown New Bedford. The festival will occur on Saturday, July 8, 2000. Festival planners are limiting the number of tickets sold to ensure that the wine-tasting and art show is comfortable for all who attend.

The Marion Wine and Arts Festival will showcase several locally grown estate and bottled wines. Four Vineyards will represent the new viticulture of the SouthCoast region. The first is the internationally-acclaimed wines of Westport Rivers Vineyard and Winery. The others include the new High Hill Vineyard and Winery in Dartmouth, along with Sakonnet and Greenvale from Rhode Island. Their locally-produced wines will be featured with other fine wines from around the world at The Grand Tasting. Along with sampling of nearly 300 wines, festival attendees will see new and original artwork by 60 artists from all over the country.

According to Carol Russell, Vice President of Westport Rivers Vineyard and Winery, the SouthCoast is an emerging wine growing region, like Sonoma, California was 20 years ago. And the long, cool growing season is perfect for the creation of premium estate white wines and "Champagne." Thirty years ago, Bob Russell started experimenting with wine-making and researched how to grow the classical European vines in this area.

The Russell family brought an historic dairy farm in Westport, MA in 1982 and planted 40 acres planning to make "Champagne." Today, with 80 acres of grapes on their 200-acre historic family farm, Westport Rivers is the largest vineyard in New England. They are leading the way for the successful growing of vinifera in this cool, coastal climate. They also are leading the way for a premium sparkling wine region. Now they have received the ultimate honor with their Brut Cuvee being served at The White House on several occasions!

While the Russell Family could have started their vineyard anywhere in the world, they chose to remain in New England. "We had lived here for 25 years and when we plant roots, we plant them deep, just like a grapevine," Russell said. "And we wanted a supportive farming community, like Westport, where we knew we could get the tractor fixed." Their dream is to see this area, which Bob named "The Heritage Farm Coast," known as Farm, Fish, Food and Wine Region with locally-grown produce, milk, cheeses and wines coupled with the bounty from the sea. When you have these great natural resources, the chefs follow and open great restaurants like The Back Eddy in Westport, Webster Hall in Wareham, Margaret's in Fairhaven, and Bridge Street Cafe in Padanaram.

"We love New England for its intimate, touchable landscape, its people and its heritage," Russell said. "We all need to preserve this ... as well as our local agriculture, in order to create sustainable communities for our

Above: Fifth grade students from Sippican School in Marion took the World Championship title in the "Odyssey of the Mind" creativity program event recently and were recognized by the town's Board of Selectmen at a public meeting last week. The group competed against 40 teams from eight countries and won the title by designing and crafting an isosceles triangle made of pasta and glue which was able to support an incredible 280 pounds. Pictured here with Marion Selectmen (back, l. to r.) Albert Winters, Loretta Schaefer, and Jody Dickerson are "champs" Bridget Liberty Halligan, Meredith Race, Katelyn Correia, Gretchen Correia, Jacob Litke, Nicholas Carnazza, and Conor Brown. Each team member received a certificate of appreciation from the board. (Photo by Kenneth J. Souza.)

On the cover: Susan Stillman's acrylic painting "Long Shadows" is just one example of the fine work which will be displayed at the first annual Marion Wine & Arts Festival to debut on Saturday, July 8 on the town's scenic waterfront. In addition to various artwork and musical performances, the event will also boast a wine tasting with nearly 300 varieties. (Photo courtesy of Wendy Cullum.)

So that our staff can enjoy the July 4th Holiday, there will be no July 6th edition published. The next regular edition of The Wanderer will be July 13th. Our office will be closed from July 3 to July 7th.

The Marion Wine and Arts Festival is a one-day cultural event, which opens at 11:00 am and closes at 7:00 pm. The Grand Tasting is from 2:00 pm to 6:00 pm. Four beautiful tents on Island Wharf overlooking Sippican Harbor will protect all the outdoor art exhibits with several artists exhibiting in the Music Hall. It will be a spectacular setting for an art exhibition and fine-wine tasting.

The Musical Program is also not to be missed. In the Marion Music Hall, eight performances are scheduled throughout the day. It starts with Richard Scarpellino on The Grand Piano accompanied by Kristian Baarsvik on saxophone. Continuing on the Grand Piano are Matt Richard, Elaine Cronin, Randall Elgin, and Steve Bussiere. Then Brian Mello will play Flamenco guitar followed by Melanie Santos on flute accompanied by Elaine Cronin on piano. The program will conclude with Sheila Converse and Linda Maranis, who have played in Carnegie Hall, performing a piano duet. Each musician will play for 50 minutes.

reappointments. The joint boards and moderator unanimously voted to reappoint/appoint the following to the town's FinCom: Chairman Michael Costa for a term to expire on June 30, 2003; Michael Bare for a term to expire on June 30, 2003; Janice Look for a term to expire on June 30, 2001; Claudette Coutu as an associate member for a term to expire June 30, 2001; and Bob Cunha as an associate member for a term to expire June 30, 2001.

This structure leaves one full seat open on the FinCom, and Chairman Costa advised that anyone interested in serving on the committee should submit a letter to the FinCom, c/o Rochester Town Hall.

At 7:20 pm the board met with Joe Booth of Dyer/Brown Architects to discuss the recent bids for the Police/Communications Building project which were received and opened on June 22. Of the five bids received, the lowest was $1.55 million made by Kirker-Perry Construction Company of Raynham, MA. With the associated "soft costs," that would bring the final project's total to about $1.935 million. All of the submitted bids were significantly higher than anticipated, and Mr. Booth advised that under state law, they have to award the contract to the lowest bidder or reject all bids.

"We thought our estimates were conservative but our bidders proved us wrong," Mr. Booth said. "It's the economy ... that's the only reason I can give. Right now the economy is booming and I don't see any changes in the near future ... ten years ago, this would have been a half-million-dollar building."

"We started off thinking the money we had (allocated) would cover the cost ... how it's doubled is mind-boggling," Selectman Cutler said. "I can't help but thinking if this is because of the prevailing wages and state bidding laws."

"We have two alternatives," Mr. Booth suggested. "One, go forward with the project or, two, redesign it. Will it come in half-a-million lower? I doubt it. We do have certain design requirements to adhere to ... and there's nothing exorbitant about the (current) design. I don't recommend that we cut the project to the bare bones ... we need to prepare for unforeseen expenses during construction."

After breaking to meet separately to discuss the town's financial options, the FinCom returned and recommended they proceed with the project by covering the $885,000 cost overrun with a $485,000 transfer from the Stabilization Fund and borrow the remaining $400,000 within the Proposition 2 1/2 levy limit. Both items will be combined into a single article for placement on the July 24 Special Town Meeting warrant. The board unanimously voted to direct Mr. Huntoon to draft such an article for next month's Special Town Meeting and asked Mr. Booth to bring detailed plans and be prepared to field questions from voters on the cost overrun.

"I think it's important for people to see the basic floor plan (of the building) so they realize there are really no areas to cut," Selectman Ryan said.

At 7:44 pm the board met with Town Moderator Greenwood Hartley regarding some concerns he had over Town Meeting procedures and some recommendations for changes. First, he'd like the town to consider purchasing a portable sound system which could be used for Town Meetings and other public events, noting that the sound system used on the second night of the Annual Town Meeting at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School was inadequate.

He also suggested purchasing a laptop portable computer which could be used to type up article amendments and then, alternately, print them out to be displayed via an overhead projector. This would make it easier for voters to understand the recommended changes. The board asked Mr. Hartley to look into costs for a laptop computer for this purpose and Selectman Cutler said he would check into prices on portable sound systems.

Likewise, Selectman Ryan said she wanted stricter guidelines for Town Meeting article submissions.

"One of my other pet peeves is I think we should have a closing date for all articles and a printed warrant ready at least two weeks before Town Meeting," she said. "I really and truly feel this is the only way we can accomplish anything."

After approving the minutes of the June 12 meeting and the minutes of the June 19 meeting (both regular and executive sessions), the board reviewed incoming correspondence for the week beginning with a letter from Abington Selectman Kevin R. Donovan on behalf of the Plymouth County Selectmen's Association. Mr. Donovan is hoping to reactivate the association and is seeking representative town officials to serve as officers. Although the board said they didn't want to commit to serving as officers, they agreed to send a letter of support on behalf of the organization. "That was a good association ... but it needs good leadership to keep it going," Selectman Cutler said.

Attorney Richard T. Moses sent a letter on behalf of Bruce Maksy regarding Mr. Maksy's pending application before the Zoning Board of Appeals to erect a 190-foot monopole communications tower in town. At a meeting of the Cell Tower Siting Committee on June 12, Mr. Moses alleged that Chairman Richard Nunes made suggestions that Mr. Maksy's daughter-in-law, Suzanne Maksy, had "sabotaged the advertising of a recent article which was before the Rochester Town Meeting relating to a moratorium in connection with cell towers. Such an allegation is clearly slanderous and should certainly

The board suggested that Mr. Huntoon talk to some of the people involved in this matter — including two witnesses cited in the attorney's letter — and report back to them. "I'd rather have Mr. Huntoon discuss this with them and report back to us next week before we take any action," Chairman Parker said.

In other matters, the board:

• Unanimously voted to appoint Harvey Blanchette, Veterans Agent, as the town's Burial Agent for town veterans.

• Agreed to look into moving one of the Town

Hall clerks from the Selectmen's front office to the Building Department downstairs to handle the increased traffic in that department upon a recommendation from Building Inspector Bob Francis. "My biggest problem is the phone calls — 90 percent of which could be done from the downstairs office," Mr. Francis said. "I think it would be easier and more efficient to have (her) downstairs ... stuff isn't getting done because the files are not downstairs."

• Agreed to hold the hiring of any new police officers until the board could establish universal procedures and policies for new hires which fell in line with their recently-adopted application and testing routine. "I think it's time we look for someone with law enforcement degrees as opposed to hiring them 'off the street,'" Selectman Ryan said.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:52 pm.

Benefit Auction in Mattapoisett

Is there anyone out there willing to donate a signed photograph of President Kennedy or a Civil War sailor's letter or a nineteenth century picture puzzle ... all for a good cause?

Such items and a variety of other donated paper collectibles are now being accepted for auction in the fall to help raise funds for land acquisition by local land trusts. The idea is being put forth by the Mattapoisett Friends Meeting (Quaker) as it plans for another of its auctions featuring ephemera (collectible paper goods) on October 21. A section of the auction is being reserved for donations.

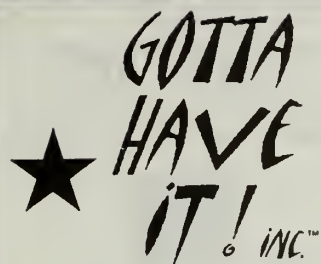

The following land trusts will be beneficiaries of any donated items through this appeal: The Mattapoisett

Marion Art Center

Close and Closer

"Close and Closer," a photographic journey by Caryn Koffman opens at the Marion Art Center on Friday, June 30 with a reception to meet the artist from 6:00 to 8:00 pm. In addition, there will be Marion's annual "Art in Bloom" with floral interpretations of the artwork by members of the Marion Garden Discussion Group at the opening.

While pursuing a Bachelor of Science degree in Education in 1979, Caryn Koffman enrolled in an introductory photography course simply for a change of pace. A mistake she made during her first experience in the darkroom created "the magic" that changed the path of her life. From the initial snapshot, Caryn's work has developed into an account of the world as it is. Nothing is manipulated, moved or removed — only emphasized. She draws in the viewer by isolating the subject, cropping away any distractions. She captures the moment and reveals the subject's spirit.

"I view the world through the lens of the camera, even when I am not carrying one," she said. "I work spontaneously and instinctively with no preconceived ideas or hidden agendas. Composing and cropping as I shoot is quick and automatic. In many cases, I take only one shot of a particular subject."

Ms. Koffman said: "I use a 50 mm lens or a long zoom lens and move in as close as possible in order to photograph parts of places or things. When people are the subjects, I always use a long lens so that nothing is disturbed or altered by my presence with the camera.

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

RABBIT DIET

My pet rabbit is getting fat. I feed her pellets and occasional lettuce.
Pet rabbits need high amounts of fiber. This is best supplied by a diet of timothy hay or other grass hay. Avoid alfalfa as it has too much calcium and protein. The rabbit should be fed as much of this hay as she wants.

What should I feed my rabbit?

Pet rabbits need high amounts of fiber. This is best supplied by a diet of timothy hay or other grass hay. Avoid alfalfa as it has too much calcium and protein. The rabbit should be fed as much of this hay as she wants.

What about lettuce?

Romaine and other leaf lettuces are OK but iceberg lettuce has no nutritional value. Try feeding your rabbit other green vegetables such as broccoli. Start with a small piece then double the amount given on each subsequent day. This allows the bacteria in the rabbits intestine to acclimate to the new food. Overfeeding a new food can cause diarrhea and even death.

Are there other foods to avoid?

Avoid starchy foods such as oats, cheerios, potatoes, and most other foods that we like. Stick with hay, vegetables that are slowly introduced and some pellets.

Reading Program in Marion

Get "Hooked on Books" at the Elizabeth Taber Library in Marion this summer. For six weeks beginning Wednesday, July 5, children 2-12 years old can "fish" the library's "waters" for storytimes, activities, crafts, and — of course — great reading.

Pre-readers can help fill the "aquarium" with fish they decorate each time they visit the library. Independent readers and families reading together can apply for a "fishing license" — it's good for two hours' worth of reading and can be redeemed for pirate's treasure. A complete calendar of events is available at the library.

Rochester Bottle Drive

Rochester Cub Scouts Pack 30 proudly announce their seventh annual Bottle Drive to take place on Saturday, July 8 from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm in the Plumb Corner parking lot, 565 Rounseville Road in Rochester. Please drop off your clean, recyclable bottles and cans during this event. Pick up is also available by calling 763-2299 and leaving a message.

Woman's Club Bake Sale

The Mattapoisett Woman's Club will be baking pies and other baked goods to be sold at "Harbor Days" on July 15 and 16 starting at 10:00 am. Come early to get your favorites! This fund-raiser benefits the club's Ways and Means Committee and Scholarships.

As Time Goes By

The special exhibit at the Mattapoisett Museum and Carriage House this summer will focus on how we have measured, calculated and kept time over the past two hundred years (and beyond). The exhibit will include clocks, watches, sun dials, hourglasses, and ships' clocks, chronometers, and other time pieces. The exhibit is in its final preparation stages ... there is still time, however, to submit any items for consideration. They are looking particularly for watches (Mickey Mouse, etc.), kitchen clocks, old calendars, and a cuckoo clock.

If you have a clock, watch, calendar, or other "time piece" that has an interesting history, or is just an interesting piece and would like it to be considered for inclusion in the exhibit, please call the museum at 758-2844.

Rochester Historical Commission

The Rochester Historical Commission is continuing to research the town's history and has added another dozen property reports to the survey to be found at the Plumb Memorial Library. Once you've checked them out, if you have and can add information to any of the reports, please let the commission know. They are looking for interesting history/stories/photos to go along with the survey reports. They are also looking for old articles, pictures, and the like that may be copied and added to the collection. In particular, the committee is interested in the old schools — North Rochester, Burgess, Braley, Bishop/Walnut Plain, Stuart, Davis, Pierceville, Church, Centre, Cushman, Leonard, Manter, Waterman and the Academy Building. If you have old classes photos, pictures of the buildings or stories you have or remember hearing from your parents or grandparents, they'd like to hear from you! Their next meeting will be held on July 18 at 7:00 pm in the Town Hall and every first and third Tuesday of the month. If you have any questions or information, please stop by, drop them a line in care of the Town Hall, or call Sue at 295-8908.

The First Annual ORR Alumni Association Benefit Golf Tournament will be held on Monday, August 21 at 8:00 am at the Bay Point Country Club in Onset. Entry fee is $75 per player. For more information, please call Steve Heath at 748-2493. Look for registration forms in local shops in the very near future. The evening's entertainment — all free — is expected to bring more than 20,000 to the UMass Dartmouth Campus. Picnic suppers, lawn chairs and blankets will make for comfort, as will arriving for best seating. FleetBoston and the Town of Dartmouth sponsor the university's sixth annual Independence Day Concert and Fireworks.

The music begins at 6:00 pm with sea chanteys performed with rousing good cheer and in full period costume by the Colonial Navy of Massachusetts. At 6:30 pm, Professor Royal Hartigan and the drummers, dancers, and vocalists of the Kekeli West African Dancers will take to the stage and mingle with the audience.

At 7:45 pm the New Bedford Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of maestro F. John Adams, will present a musical tribute to American composers, featuring selections by John Williams, George M. Cohen, and Leonard Bernstein. This year, the NBSO Pops Concert will include a special composition titled "Fable" written by UMass Dartmouth alumnus Andrew Jackson McWain. "Unseen Borders"

As part of the Mattapoisett Public Library's Summer Reading Program, "Explore With Reading," storytellers Karen Glickman and Tony Toledo will present a program titled "Unseen Borders" at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church on Wednesday, July 12 from 2:00 to 2:45 pm. Karen tells all her stories in American Sign Language because she is deaf. Tony voice interprets for the deaf-impaired listeners. Then Tony tells his own stories with voice alone. To end the performance, they tell a story together.

"Unseen Borders" consists of folk tales, personal stories, and a few surprises. Tony and Karen have the kids and their parents sing refrains, clapping their hand and stretching their imaginations. This program is open to all and is supported, in part, by a grant from the Mattapoisett Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

"Animal Folktales"

On Wednesday, July 26 from 2:00 to 2:45 pm, Sparky's Puppets will perform "Animal Folktales" at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church. Meet the monkey and his friends. Watch Three Billy Goats Gruff escape from the wicked troll. Watch the race between the tortoise and the hare and learn why the bear has a short tail.

Wednesday's show is part of the summer reading program and is especially for preschoolers. The program is sponsored by the Friends of the Mattapoisett Public Library.

Fairhaven Fourth of July Parade

Wear a costume, march in a parade, watch the firing of the Fort Phoenix cannons, and maybe even win a great prize package at this year's American History Costume Parade, sponsored by the Fairhaven Office of Tourism on Tuesday, July 4 at 9:30 am. Adults and children are invited to dress as their favorite character from any period of American history to walk from Cushman Park to Fort Phoenix. A lot of creativity has gone into the costumes seen during the previous three years, according to Fairhaven Tourism Director Christopher J. Richard.

"We have seen characters such as Tom Sawyer, Johnny Appleseed, Miss Liberty, flappers, Indian maidens, Ben Franklin, characters from Little House on the Prairie, a Hawaiian king, Civil War soldiers, everything you can think of, really," Mr. Richard said. "With 380 years since the Pilgrims arrived, there are almost endless possibilities for costumes, from John Alden and Priscilla Mullens to the Brady Bunch."

The parade will form between 9:00 am and 9:30 am at the Spring Street entrance of Cushman Park. At that time, everyone dressed in costume will be given a ticket for the prize drawing to be held at the fort.

The adult prize is a "Food for a Day in Fairhaven" package consisting of breakfast for two at the Courtyard Restaurant, lunch for two at Pumpernickels, and dinner for two at the Fairhaven Chowder House. The children's prize is a "Fun in Fairhaven" package including prize certificates good at Loony Toonz, Dorothy Cox's Chocolates and Ice Cream Parlor, Naughty Dawgs, and Carousel Skating Center. All of the prizes have been donated by the above-named businesses. The prize tickets will be drawn at random. (Members of the Fairhaven Tourism Committee and their immediate families are not eligible for prizes.)

When the parade of costumed marchers arrives at Fort Phoenix an Independence Day program will be held. A brief history of the fort, built in 1775, will be presented, followed by a reading of excerpts from the Declaration of Independence. All present will join to sing the "Star Spangled Banner." To conclude the program, Wayne Oliveira and Earl Faunce will load and fire the fort's five Civil War cannons.

Rochester Millennium Celebration

Remember what an old-fashioned country fair was like, with animals, games, crafts, exhibits, and a down-home atmosphere? Well, the Rochester Millennium Celebration Committee is planning one for August 19 and they're looking for people who have something they'd like to show off. Do you have animals you've raised? Do you have a skill or a craft or a talent you'd like to demonstrate? How about a collection you're proud of?

The Millennium Committee would love to talk to you if you raise, grow, manufacture, collect, or do anything you think others might be interested in. They're

MOVIE REVIEW

Double Trouble

BY ROB GONSALVES

local@wanderer.com

Me, Myself & Irene. Starring Jim Carrey and Renée Zellweger. Directed by Peter and Bobby Farrelly. Running time: 116 minutes. MPAA rating: R. At Cinema 12 at the North Dartmouth Mall and Flagship Cinemas in New Bedford.

A few years ago, a makeup artist transformed a bunch of modern-day actresses into classic-movie actresses and published the makeover photos in a book called Making Faces. Jim Carrey could publish a book like that, too, but he wouldn't need makeup — the entire book could chronicle his thousand facial expressions. In Me, Myself & Irene, there's a brilliant moment in which Carrey, as a mild-mannered Rhode Island highway motorcycle cop, is pushed over the edge and morphs from nice-guy Charlie to another, more aggressive personality, named Hank. The camera sits and watches Carrey as he twitches and bends his features like so much Silly Putty. Who needs computer effects when you have Jim Carrey? He does more amazing things from the neck up than most people can do with an entire FX crew.

Me, Myself & Irene is another gleefully offensive comedy from Peter and Bobby Farrelly, the Rhode Island brothers whose There's Something About Mary owned the summer of 1998 and was the youngest movie to earn a spot on AFI's 100 Funniest Movies list. Their new movie, for some people, may suffer in comparison, and there aren't any scenes that made me laugh as long and hard as the smackdown between Ben Stiller and Warren. But MM&I is still consistently filthy and funny, with the Farrellys' usual attention to disability that will surely be misread as insensitivity to disability. The Farrelly universe is populated by people of all shapes, sizes, colors, and mental/physical problems, and we laugh at them not because they're different but because they're human — they're as screwed up as anyone else.

Like Mary, MM&I has a lengthy opening act setting up the story. Some reviews will inevitably blow some of the surprises for you, so I'll let you discover for yourself how the very white Charlie winds up with three black sons who grow up to be gargantuan high-school kids with gargantuan IQs to match. (The trio of sons are played by Anthony Anderson, Jerod Mixon, and Mongo Brownlee. Remember those names — you'll probably be hearing them a lot this summer. These guys steal the movie, which isn't easy considering the star.) After Charlie snaps and becomes the mean, psychotic Hank (which is multiple-personality disorder, not schizophrenia, contrary to the movie's definition), he's assigned to deliver a criminal named Irene (Renée Zellweger) from Rhode Island to upstate New York. Problem is, both Charlie and Hank fall in love with Irene along the way.

Along the way, there are also jokes involving ... well, I originally listed a few in here, but (A) that would be giving away the jokes, and (B) most of them are fairly unprintable. The Farrellys' comedy depends a lot on the shock value of raunchy sight gags; earlier audiences got more of a bang out of the hair-gel scene in Mary than later viewers did, after it became the talk of the summer. I don't know what will be the water-cooler outrage in MM&I, though a couple of scenes involving animals may qualify; so might the morning-after scene between Charlie and Irene, which gives us the classic line "I didn't put it up there — you did!"

Renée Zellweger, who has sort of been adrift since her star-making turn in Jerry Maguire, re-establishes herself here as a woman to watch; like Cameron Diaz in Mary, she's a good sport and a note of class amid boy's-club hijinks. But it's really Carrey's show, as any Carrey movie has to be. Whether he's the hapless Charlie or the Eastwoodesque Hank, Carrey keeps us connected to his lowest desires and highest hopes; this is actually a fairly detailed and sensitive portrait of mental disability, done in a low-comedy context. At one point Charlie bursts into tears, and you're torn between feeling sorry for him and laughing at the ridiculous whistling noise coming from his broken nose. Carrey and the Farrellys specialize in that kind of split-personality scene, where you don't know whether to laugh or cry. They also tell you, What the hell, you might as well laugh.

WAYS TO REDUCE DOWN PAYMENTS

Since the value of homes keeps rising, usually at a greater rate than the cost of living, this means that the amount of cash needed for that down payment keeps rising as well. Those of you who already own homes have taken advantage of this price rise. Both you and I know where the down payment money is coming from - the profit from your home sale.

For those of you who are trying to save enough for that first down payment, don't give up. For some, there are ways to reduce that amount.

If you are a military veteran, you may be able to purchase with less money down. If you hold a job with a solid, higher earning potential, you may qualify for a graduated mortgage with a modest down payment. If you buy an owner-occupied multiple dwelling, there will be rental income which could help you qualify for a higher mortgage/reduced down payment. If you buy jointly with another, your down payment could conceivably be cut in half.

This Week's Horoscope

by Linda Black

Aries (March 21-April 19). Home and family are important to you. You should be able to get whatever you need to fix the place up. Take out a loan, if necessary.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). You're in learning mode. You're strong. Polish skills you already have. Ask for an increase in pay or get a better job.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). You might be able to bring a lot of money in if you follow the advice of a person who's already got it made. Don't get overly confident. You may not know everything, yet.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). You're strong. You're cute, too! You're doing a great job, and your friends might elect you to a leadership position. Don't start new projects though; finish up old ones.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). You might get called on the carpet. Better tidy things up before anybody finds out what you don't want them to know!

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Friends surround you, and that could give you the courage to try something different. Polish old skills and you might be qualified for a career move.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Act as if you're on stage every minute. Be gracious, and you'll further your career.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Start by paying off your bills. If you're already debt-free, stash those pennies away in a safe place. You'll be tempted to spend, but don't do it.

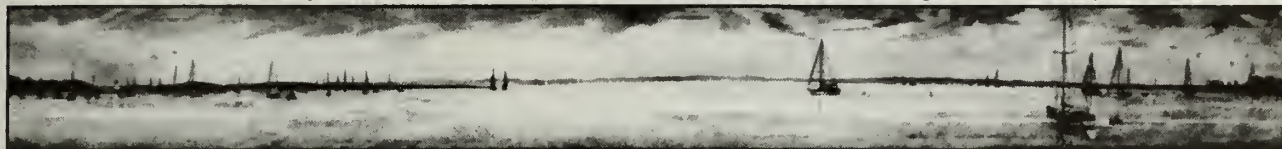

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You might be in the mood to form a romantic partnership. Don't do this with somebody you've just met; it'll only work well with an old friend.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The people who need you most are pretty close to home. They'll let you know what they want. Look for ways to make their lives easier.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). This should be a nice week for you. Watch and listen. Somebody, maybe a child, has something they want to tell you. Stay close to home.

Rochester Century Parade

A committee of Civic and Social organizations is planning for the celebration of the twenty-first century in Rochester. If your club or town department would be interested in serving on the committee, why not delegate a member to serve?

Various events are now under consideration to be held during the summer months. The Rochester Lions Club has agreed to serve to bring about a giant parade similar to the parades sponsored by the Lions Club in 1979 and 1986.

Why not start today to enter a float or other exhibition in this parade and help make it a parade to be remembered? It is best to have a parade theme, so a suggestion of "Progress from 1900 to 2000" has been made. Picture for a moment a float with a youngster sitting at a desk with a large encyclopedia with paper and pencil doing research in the early 1900s and then another youngster sitting at a computer doing his or her research.

There are other unlimited ideas for a float. Examples include bathing suits for women in early 1900 and bikini clad suits of the 2000s, or two kids communicating with two tin cans and a piece of kite
